WE ARE HIRING!

Sacramento County's Department of Health Services New Psychiatric Residential Treatment Facility (PRTF)

About PRTF

In September 2022, California's Governor approved AB 2317, allowing the establishment of Children's Psychiatric Residential Treatment Facilities (PRTF) for youth up to 21 years old. This new facility type aims to address the shortage of inpatient beds and improve children's services by offering a range of crisis stabilization and residential services in one location. In December 2022, the Department of Health Care Services awarded grants for PRTF, with the county's Behavioral Health Services receiving funding to build a facility. The PRTF will provide a safe, structured environment for children with severe mental health issues, offering intensive therapeutic support and co-occurring treatment within our programs, promoting recovery and social functioning, and ultimately enhancing their quality of life.

Who is Served?

- Sacramento County residents including foster children/youth under 21 years of age
- The child/youth must meet 'Medical Necessity Criteria' as described in Section 1396d of Title 42 of the United States Code: the child/youth must be in crisis and unable to receive adequate care or stability/achieve therapeutic goals in a less restrictive environment, such as outpatient or community-based services
- The child/youth's symptoms or behaviors must pose significant risks to themselves or others, warranting 24-hour supervision and support; Psychiatric stability is required, meaning the person does not need acute medical or surgical care
- A licensed mental health professional must recommend this level of treatment based on a comprehensive clinical assessment

Key Services

- 24-hour supervision and support from trained mental health professionals for crisis intervention, stabilization, and co-occurring treatment within our programs
- Customized treatment plans for each child/youth, including tailored life skills training and education
- Therapy, medication management, and support for developing healthy behaviors to aid in transitioning back to the community or a less restrictive environment
- Involvement of family and stakeholders in treatment planning and safe discharge processes
