California Health Alert Network

The California Health Alert Network (CAHAN) is an Everbridge based disaster notification platform that connects federal, state, local, and tribal partners with important public health and medical alerts to support the active roles they play in emergency response. CAHAN is designed to accommodate local response networks for sharing emergency alerting and preparedness information such as drills, disease treatment and prevention advisories, and communications that strengthen state and local emergency preparedness.

The nearly 30,000 participating CAHAN contacts include professionals working in public health, environmental health, emergency medical services, and healthcare allied services.

CAHAN links critical health and emergency response partners together to provide:

- Rapid and secure communications system among state and local health agencies, health care providers, emergency management officials, and other emergency response partners.
- Dissemination of announcements from local, state, or federal public health authorities to inform health and medical service personnel of likely or imminent dangers to the health of their community.
- Secure collaborative environment to develop and share information for emergency preparedness planning and response.

To register for CAHAN alerts from Sacramento County Public Health, please complete the information below and email the form to CAHAN@saccounty.net.
